FROM THE DESK OF VICE CHANCELLOR

Knowledge is like a magnet, which attracts the information around it. If we have better knowledge about anything, it is easier to absorb the related information or facts. Knowledge plays a critical role in everyone's life. Knowledge teaches us how to live life. The most important element in the acquisition of knowledge is our intellect. Wisdom comes from intellect. Without intellect, assimilation of knowledge is not possible. Any knowledge is considered useful only when we can use it in daily life. Otherwise, such knowledge is useless and does not benefit anyone. There is no use in storing it in the mind.

The ignorant people start a little work but get very upset. Shakespeare wrote, "Ignorance is darkness." The famous philosopher Plato said, "It is better not to be born than to be ignorant because ignorance is the root of all misfortunes. A knowledgeable person becomes more valuable to the society; he/she earns unconditional respect over the period.

A University is the epitome of teaching, learning, and knowledge sharing which together shape the life and career of a large number of youth in the framework of higher education. Shri Vaishnav Vidyapeeth Vishwavidyalaya believes that knowledge is an important part of our life. Knowledge acts as a key to being successful in life. Without knowledge, one may simply live in darkness. Knowledge is the first key to success. A large number of activities and events were organized by the students and for the students throughout the academic year. This Annual Report covers the period of the last one year from July 2022 to June 2023 and presents a series of glimpses.

He congratulated the Centre for Women's Studies for selecting such a relevant topic for the colloquium. Today, all of us are aware of lifestyle disorders. We broadly know about Allopathy, Homeopathy, Unani; and above all, Ayurveda. Ayurveda believes in treating not just the disease, but treating the whole body including the psychophysiological system of a patient. Ayurveda has its origins in the ancient Vedas of the country. Still, it is a big challenge to convince people about Ayurveda's efficacy. Ayurvedic doctors have been facing these challenges. He welcomed the learned resource persons and said he was looking forward to a highly knowledgeable session.

Dr Tanuja Nesari, Director AIIMS started her address with a shloka 'Sattvam Aatman Shareeram: Trayam Etam Tridandavat.' She said Ayurveda is a knowledge system for a healthy life. She said that this meant that good health is an outcome of the harmony between the mind, body and soul. It is a harmony within ourselves and harmony with the outside environment and universe. When we have the harmony of the biological clock with the universal clock, the outcome is health. This health includes physical, mental, spiritual and social aspects. To understand physical health, we have many tools and tests, but for understanding the mental, spiritual and social dimensions which lead to health, no yardsticks have yet evolved. Here, it leads to the fact that the absence of evidence is not evidence of absence.

The scientific tools not yet established to understand the spiritual aspects that lead to determining health and happiness. Ayurveda is the living system of knowledge that has sustained in our continent for the past 5000 years. It is the knowledge system of a happy and healthy life. The strength of this system is that Ayurveda in its true spirit starts from illness to wellness and doesn't stop there. It leads to happiness. - ❖ Detailed understanding of Quality Checks and Quality Control w.r.t to bulk preparation.
- ❖ Learning of packaging related measures.

On the day of the visit, guidelines have been communicated to all students regarding what they exactly need to observe, potential key points, how to raise questions to the respective officers and maintain discipline.

Milk Processing Section

After briefing about the entire dairy plant, administration began the visit with a processing unit. The processing of milk is one of the main things of any dairy industry. So, the proper way of milk processing is very important to get good quality products.

The dairy also has a well organized milk processing section and it was explained by the dairy personnel in detail to students. Here three types of pasteurized fluid milk are produced such as DTM (1.5% fat, 9% SNF), Standardized milk (4.5% fat, 8.5% SNF), Cow milk (3.8% fat, 9% SNF) and Full cream Milk (6 % fat, 9% SNF).

The following processing of milk has been shown to the students

- ❖ Chilling of raw milk
- ❖ Separation of cream and skimmed milk.
- ❖ Standardization.
- ❖ Pasteurization of milk.
- ❖ Homogenization.
- ❖ Cream Pasteurization.
- ❖ Packaging of fluid milk

Pasteurization:

Pasteurization is very essential to understand as it is necessary for the milk processing. Pasteurization is done by heating every particle of milk to 72°C for 15 seconds to minimize the bacterial load. Then phosphates test should be negative, after pasteurization milk should be cooled to 5°C or below. During the visit Production supervisor explained the process of Pasteurization by showing the required equipment. The below mentioned standards for milk were also discussed with students.

Standards for milk

TYPE OF MILK	%FAT	%SNF
Double toned milk	1.5	9.0
Toned milk	3.0	8.5
Standardized milk	4.5	8.5
Full cream milk	6.0	9.0
Parivar(Skim milk)	NMT 0.5	8.7
Chah(Homogenised mixed milk)	4.0	9.0
Cow milk	3.8	8.7

Operating parameters for pasteurizers:

Pasteurized milk temperature	72°C
Chilled milk temperature	Maximum 4°C
Chilled water inlet temperature	1.5°C
Hot water inlet temperature	85-90°C
Steam Pressure	1.5 – 3.0 Kg/cm <sup>2</sup>

Churner/Separator (Scum to Butter)

After developing an understanding about milk processing students proceed to understand the development of other milk products like butter, ghee, paneer etc. This unit is known as Churner room which has a churner and various chambers with maintained temperature.

To ensure the accuracy and precision of the complete testing process, it is mandatory to have quality control (QC) and quality assurance (QA) measures in place. Institute students have already been taught about various Quality control checks and Quality assurance measures, which they have experienced in this visit.

The following equipment's have been shown to student and few but important have explained.

- ❖ Gerber centrifuge
- ❖ Water bath
- ❖ pH meter
- ❖ Desiccators
- ❖ Total solid apparatus
- ❖ Weighing machine
- ❖ Vacuum oven
- ❖ Filter machine

- ❖ Infra-red moisture analyser
- ❖ Singal pan electronic balance
- ❖ Sediment centrifuge
- ❖ Advanced milk cryoscopy 41
- ❖ Brusting strength tester
- ❖ Kjeldhal apparatus
- ❖ Refractometer

Packaging

After observing the entire processing unit, the student has understood about the packaging with different denominators like 200ml, 500ml, 1L, 5L etc. It was explained that the layer of plastic is folded vertically and sealed. A horizontal sealer seals the bottom of the pouch. Simultaneously, milk from an overhead float tank is siphoned into the formed cylinder. It is then again horizontally sealed at the top and cut off to form a pouch filled with milk.

Cleaning of the equipment

Equipment	Washing	Frequency
Weighing bowl, dump tank, can drip saver, filters	Cold water rinse and manual cleaning and then sterilization with hot water	After every reception
Can washer and lid washing Trough	Manual cleaning	Once in a day
Receiving pipe lines	CIP	After every reception
Cleaning of drain point	Manual cleaning	Once in a day
Silos and tanks	Cold water rinse and then sterilization with hot water CIP	After every empty Every week

Special Note :

1. Yellow colour on the can neck indicates the can contains cow milk.
2. No such identification for buffalo milk can.
3. Calibration of weighing scale is done before and after receiving both in morning and evening. Calibration is done by water using a standard can.
4. Detection of Adulterants in Milk (by NDDB adulteration kit).

Fourth National Conference SAHITYAVITHI 2022

(17.11.2022)

The Fourth National Conference in English Language and Literature SAHITYAVITHI 2022 was virtually inaugurated at Shri Vaishnav Vidyapeeth Vishwavidyalaya, Indore on 17 November, 2022 on the theme of "Language and Literature for Lifelong Learning and Quality Education". The Conference was organized by the Department of Humanities, SVISSHA, SVVV. The Chief Guest of the inaugural session was Dr Ashok Thorat, Founder Director – Institute of Advanced Studies in English, Pune (Maharashtra).

Introducing the theme of the Conference, Conference Advisor Dr Santosh Dhar emphasized the importance of education as the need of the hour as it fosters social development. Quality education develops attributes and skills. Humanity and English language have an extremely important role in global exposure. There are several broader perspectives of education that contribute to social inclusion and personal fulfilment. Collaborative learning, personalized learning, and individualized learning is the need of contemporary times. Proper alignment, understanding of the language and the importance of learning life skills across education is of prime importance. She concluded that the conference would focus on these issues and their solutions along with great learning.

In his welcome address, Hon'ble VC Dr Upinder Dhar focused on the importance of the platform for teachers and students to build networks and learning experiences. The concept of the theme is divided into four – i) Language (Universal for communication), ii)- Literature (Mirror of any culture), iii)- Lifelong learning (continuous learning which does not end with formal education) and iv) - Quality Education (It emerges as a by-product if above three parts are taken care properly). He also suggested the necessity of adapting to solve problems in changing situations and when required to unlearn and relearn.

The chief guest of the inaugural session Dr Ashok Thorat addressed the august gathering. He enlightened the delegates by highlighting the knowledge of Lifelong Learning, Language & Literature. Lifelong learning is a combination of formal & informal education. Language teachers need to adapt and transform education in reference to NEP. Learning is all about a change throughout life and change generates opportunity. Education has its own agenda whereas real life situation differs with uncertainty and unpredictability. As a teacher of humanities, we should come out of the classes and focus on youth by evolving them on project to build and spread humanity.

The Conference Souvenir-Sankshep-2022 was also released by the chief guest and the session was concluded with the words of thanks by Dr Roopa Shinde HOD, Humanities, SVISSHA, SVVV followed by the National Anthem.

The inaugural Session was followed by Plenary Session. The first speaker was Dr M Shobha, Professor Bangalore University who spoke on "Literary Adaptations." Literary adaptation is the adapting of a literary source a novel, short story, or poem to another genre. Films generate students' interest in language and literature. She further discussed intertextuality, adaptation, and appropriation. Intertextuality is the inclusion of different texts in a work, but an adaptation is the remaking of an original text. She referred to some examples of literary from Shakespeare, Mahashweta Devi's Rudali and so on.

The Second speaker, Dr Somali Gupta, Professor VYTPG College, Durg briefed about "Retrospective Narratives". Learning from literature and the way literature gives relief and relaxation. Reflective narrative is a form of personal writing which reflect on events and changes in authors' lives. Authors reflect on their experiences and examine how they have changed or learned from them and how their writings benefit and help us. People from various professions other than literary field, are writing autobiographies and sharing their personal narratives nowadays. Works by Homer, Babar, and Kamala Das were the attraction in her discussion. Also, the importance of quality education and how it has evolved over time were explained.

The third speaker of the session Dr Amitabh Vikram Dwivedi in his deliberation discussed "Text, Textuality and Discourse". Linguistics knowledge helps us to comprehend texts on a deeper level. Text cannot be read in isolation. As it is situated in the context, it should be read in that context. The concept of syntagmatic and paradigmatic relationship given by Ferdinand D Saussure by quoting the example of Shakespeare's sonnet were explained. Literature is the mirror of society and literature cannot understand without proper knowledge of the language. So, the deep study of language is extremely important.

The plenary session was concluded with Q & A round and the concluding remarks were given by the Session Chair Dr K. N. Guruprasad, Director SVIS, SVVV. He appreciated all the speakers and insisted to call them in near future in any offline event. Dr Anurag Joshi, Associate Professor, SVISSHA was the anchor and Dr Sheetal Jain, Assistant Professor, SVISSHA was the Rapporteur of the session.

Online One-Week Faculty Development Program (FDP)- “Present & Future of renewable Energy Sources: From Laboratory to Industry”*in association withk Watt solutions LTD, Mumbai

(26-30.09.2022)

India is a developing country in all minor/significant areas. The need for energy is crucial to support this development in terms of scientific, technological and industrial. To support this energy supply, we depend on traditional energy sources, like coal, oil etc. But these all-traditional sources of energy are draining amazingly fast. As per the recent study, these energy sources will vanish by 2050. We need to consider renewable energy sources to overcome this challenge and support continuous development. These renewable energy sources can be solar, wind, hydro, etc. To get the optimum utility of these sources, they must offer good efficiency and work. DSSC, perovskite solar cells, etc., are some excellent examples in this direction. For all these devices the functional materials are the foremost requirement. During this FDP, the concept and importance of functional materials will be discussed in detail along with their applications toward renewable energy sources.

Objectives of the FDP:

The main objective of the FDP will be to give key concepts about different functional materials potentially useful as renewable energy sources. During the FDP, the eminent speakers from academics and industry will share their expert knowledge about syntheses and applications of renewable energy sources. This FDP will provide a roadmap to the researchers intending to carry out their research work in this field.

Impact/ Expected Outcome:

- ❖ Researchers/ faculty will be able to understand the basics of functional materials and importance of renewable energy sources.
- ❖ Researchers/ faculty will be able to find the details on various synthesis and characterization techniques.

- ❖ This FDP will fill the gap between research outcomes and industrial applications of these renewable energy sources.
- ❖ Researchers/ faculty will be able to comprehend the importance of renewable energy sources toward emerging applications, like supercapacitor, solar cells, rechargeable batteries, electric vehicles (EV) etc.

A one-week online faculty development program on Advancement in Materials Science and Nanotechnology is being organized by the Department of Physics, Shri Vaishnav Vidyapeeth Vishwavidyalaya from 28 November – 2 December 2022. For this event, 54 participants registered themselves via Google Form (https://docs.google.com/forms/d/101BKphCPJBFWINTLixhQi7PoQhMh\_L2VO8vvi2q473A/edit?ts=636e29ea) from different parts of India along with one participant from Malaysia. Google Meet (<https://meet.google.com/wsm-hofn-dbp>) was used for the online FDP. Ten eminent experts, including 3 speakers from abroad Italy, Denmark and Czech Republic, from academics (IITs, CSIR, IOP etc.) and industry delivered the lectures. Every day two lectures were delivered. The program was inaugurated by Honorable Vice Chancellor Dr. Upinder Dhar with a welcome address on 28 November 2022. He has highlighted the importance of the FDP for the faculties and encouraged the participants in interdisciplinary and collaborative research activities. Conveners Dr. Manvendra Kumar and Dr. Aartee Sharma discussed the program and its expected outcomes, and they have also given brief introductions of the speakers.

After the formal inauguration (2-2:30 PM) of the event the technical session started at 2:30 PM with the talk delivered by Prof. Ajay Gupta, University of Petroleum and Energy Studies, Dehradun and Ex-Center Director UGC DAE CSR, Indore, followed by a talk of Prof. Shikha Verma, Institute of Physics, Bhubaneswar at 3:30 PM. Prof. Gupta gave a lecture on “Spintronics: A Challenge for Materials Science”. He has described the crucial role of spintronics in devices and technology and how these materials will change the future of electronics.

Prof. Shikha Verma delivered a talk on “Applications with Functional Nanostructured surfaces”. She started her lecture by showing different facilities at IOP and also the ion beam facilities used to create the nanostructured surfaces. She discussed the role of nanostructured surfaces to tune the different properties of the materials. At the end of the technical session, words of thanks were given by Dr. K. N. Guruprasad, Director, SVIS. The chairperson of the event, Dr. Uttam Sharma, HOD, Physics presided over the program.

Day 2: November 29, 2022: The technical session started with a brief introduction of resource persons given by Co-convener Dr. Aartee Sharma. The lectures were delivered by Prof. Ambesh Dixit, IIT Jodhpur on “Iron Oxide Nanoparticles for Magnetic Hyperthermia and Magnetic Resonance Imaging” from 2.30 PM - 3.30 PM and by Dr. Raghavendra Yadav, Tomas Bata University in Zlin, Czech Republic on Advanced Nanocomposites for Electromagnetic Interference Shielding and Microwave Absorption (3.30 PM - 4.30 PM). Dr. Dixit discussed magnetic hyperthermia which has been introduced clinically as an alternative approach for the focal treatment of tumors. He stated that MH utilizes the heat generated by the magnetic nanoparticles when subjected to an alternating magnetic field. Hyperthermia therapy is currently used as an anti-cancer therapy where the tumour temperature is increased to kill cancer cells and enhance the effectiveness of other therapies such as radiation or chemotherapy. Heating protocols can be classified as a function of the temperature applied over the tumor and the treatment duration. In oncology, treatments can be planned to work between 42 and 45 °C inducing local or systemic heating.

Dr. Raghavendra discussed Advanced Nanocomposites for Electromagnetic Interference Shielding, which can help prevent electronic failure in airplanes. Electromagnetic interference can disrupt electronic devices, equipment, and systems that are used in critical applications. Examples include medical, military, and aerospace electronics; mass transit systems; industrial touch screens; and navigation and vehicular control systems - just to name a few. He discussed the causes of electromagnetic interference, including man-made and natural sources. The results can range from temporary disturbances and data losses to system failure and even loss of life which pointed out the importance of the EMI shielding.

Dr. Uttam Sharma, HOD, Physics proposed the vote of thanks to the speakers and participants as well.

Day 3: November 30, 2022: Two lectures were delivered, one by industry person and one by academician. The first talk was given by Dr. Vikas Baranwal, Graphene Research Labs Pvt Ltd, Bangalore on Graphene oxide and its derivatives for Industrial Applications (2.30 PM - 3.30 PM) and the second talk was delivered by Dr. Yogendra Mishra, University of Southern Denmark, Denmark on “Tetrapods based Smart Materials for Advanced Technologies” at 3.30 PM - 4.30 PM. Dr. Aartee Sharma, Co-convener introduced the resource persons.

Dr. Baranwal said that applications of graphene derivatives in different industries are numerous. The number of products, processes and industries for which graphene could create a significant impact all stems from its amazing properties. No other material has the breadth of superlatives that graphene boasts, making it ideal for countless applications. Transport, medicine, electronics, energy, defence and desalination; the range of industries where graphene research is making an impact is substantial. He pointed out that this is only the start, and these are only the first steps; the potential of graphene is limited only by our imagination.

Dr. Yogendra discussed tetrapod-shaped nano- and microstructures from zinc oxide and other materials which have a large number of nanostructuring and application opportunities in a very broad field of materials science and engineering. A few application examples have been demonstrated. These tetrapods mingle several fundamental, as well as interdisciplinary, material fields together at one platform. Since the developed flame transport synthesis (FTS) technology offers easy upscaling for the synthesis of different varieties of ZnO tetrapods (Phi-Stone AG: a start-up company has already been at Kiel, Germany), this field is going to witness real technological applications and they have commercially developed products being used in medical science. Dr. Manvendra Kumar, Convener, proposed the vote of thanks to the speakers and participants as well.

Day 4: December 01, 2022: The talks were delivered by Dr. Sathish Natarajan, AMPRI, Bhopal on Additive Manufacturing of Graphene based materials from 2.30 PM-3.30 PM And by Dr. Maddalena Pedio, Università di Perugia, Perugia, Italy on Spectroscopic characterization of nanostructured materials (3.30 PM-4.30 PM). Dr. Aartee Sharma, Co-convener introduced both the resource persons. Dr. Sathish talked about the additive method which is employed in making the graphene-based device; it reduces a considerable amount of waste produced when subtractive or formative manufacturing techniques are used. A flexible electrode can also be made if printed on a flexible substrate. This method gets rid of the stirring needed for pushing the GO particles toward the cathode, which helps in a faster reduction of the dispersed particles of GO. The capability of the in-situ deposition makes this method a single-step method, saving a lot of energy and time. As there is no need for further reduction of the deposit, harmful chemicals and high temperatures are easily avoided. It is also noteworthy that an additional electrolyte is not necessarily required for the deposition of rGO from GO dispersions, which has been used in the other work, making this method more efficient both economically and in terms of resources required. This method can be employed at a low potential range and room temperature as opposed to some of the other prevalent methods for making rGO sheets.

Dr. Maddalena Pedio, described the different spectroscopic techniques essential for the nanomaterials characterizations with special emphasis on the use of photoemission spectroscopy (PES), UPS and inverse photoemission spectroscopy (IPES). One can get the information about the core level electrons and its structure by PES, while UPS will give detailed information about vacant electronic states. On the other hand IPES Dr. Manvendra Kumar, Convener, proposed the vote of thanks to the speakers and participants as well.

Day 5: December 02, 2022: Last day, the lectures were delivered by Prof. Santanu Ghosh, IIT Delhi on A Decade of Research in Nanomaterials: Some fascinating Results and by Prof. Pralay Maity, IIT BHU on Sustainability in Energy Sectors using Polymers. Dr. Aartee Sharma, Co-convener introduced the resource persons.

Dr. Manvendra Kumar, Convener, proposed the vote of thanks to the speakers and participants as well and concluded the online FDP.

A hard copy of the certificate was sent to all the participants. A hard copy of the Appreciation Certificate, a memento and SVVV year planner along with a new year greeting card were sent to all the speakers.

A special guests present at the event was Shri Pushyamitra Bhargava, Hon'ble Mayor, Indore. The welcome address was presented by Dr. Upinder Dhar, Honourable Vice Chancellor, Shri Vaishnav Vidyapeeth Vishwavidyalaya. He highlighted the important values for life and talked about the courses that are offered by the university to develop these values. Later, Shri Purushottamdas Ji Pasari addressed the audience and elaborated the vision and mission of Shri Vaishnav Vidyapeeth Trust, which is to be happy and make others happy and support society. Shri Ajay Assudani introduced the audience to the happenings of the event and the Sadhu Vaswani Mission. The Sadhu Vaswani Mission seeks to witness the truth that there is but one life flowing in all men, birds, animals, things animate and inanimate. It believes that life must have a spiritual orientation and promotes the practice of kirtans, prayers, meditation and above all, love for others. The others are not apart from us, we are all part of One Whole family.

A highly motivational speech was delivered by Didi Krishna Kumari ji. She highlighted the importance of a learned atmosphere in any educational institute and the meaning of success. She emphasized that it is important for us to compare our own selves with the previous versions of ourselves, instead of comparing ourselves with other people. A truly successful person is the one who makes others happy. We should be harmonious and humble and always be ready to help others. We attract what we think and therefore must we think wisely. She also emphasized the fact that we should stay connected with God and God's power. She concluded her speech by sharing the four secrets of success which are

- (i) Fix a goal and work hard to achieve it-The road to success does not happen overnight. Whether they are large or small, your everyday actions, activities, and encounters ultimately determine your success. Success comes when persistence and hard work are combined. Only perseverance and commitment can lead to success.
- (ii) Believe and achieve-You at your core need to have the belief in yourself that you can achieve things. You need to know you can learn, have the ability to do new tasks, build new and amazing habits. It all starts with if you believe you can achieve.
- (iii) Develop Character-Your character is defined by who you are at your core. It's easy to put up a front and to wear a mask, but in the long run, who you are is always revealed. If you have a poor character, sooner or later, it'll show. Conversely, if you have a strong character, people may not notice it at first, but sooner or later, it'll show.
- (iv) Stay connected to God- The short answer to how to stay connected to God is that we need to read His Word, spend regular time in prayer, and worship regularly with a community of believers.

Later, students of SVVV got an opportunity to interact with her and clarify their doubts regarding life through the question and answer session. Words of thanks was presented by Shri Kamal Narayan Ji Bhuradiya, Honorary Secretary, Shri Vaishnav Vidyapeeth Trust. The event concluded with the national anthem.

Each group was under the guidance of 1 or 2 faculty members. Students took the concept of best out of waste for several developments like landscape development in the central courtyard of the building as they have unused truck tires, damaged granite stone slabs, and bamboo. Then with the help of dumped cardboard boxes of computer accessories, they have created furniture like sofas, chairs, tables, and bookshelves on a human scale which is completely usable and durable as well. With plastic bottles and bamboo planters were created for the entrance foyer and railing on the parapet wall, whereas metal bottle caps were used for creating a wind chime.

In the sculpting part, the material used was wire mesh. In that model, students tried to depict the concept of unfolding spaces with delicacy in the linear form of the sculpture which was hinged in the centre of the entrance foyer. Emphasizing delicacy, the work has also been done on the representation of different methods of graphics. On the walls, students have designed numerous comic stories and software interfaces with characters playing different roles and showcasing the life of the person who dealt with that software. - ❖ For the different streams of SVIA, two or three workshops can be arranged to enhance the practical knowledge, topics of workshops could be: Masonry workshop, Bamboo workshop, Resin art workshop, Model making, pottery etc.
- ❖ Also we can plan some competition of any design or architectural related field, invite other colleges to be a part of that competition and we can facilitate the winners with exciting prizes on the last day of event.
- ❖ Competitions can be conducted like Live Sketching, Furniture design, Best out of waste, on the spot installation, sustainable design, Model making (in groups) etc.

Pratiti...becoming aware (December 2021 to June 2022)

Gamification is the application of game-design elements and principles in non-game contexts. A large body of research focuses on the interplay of self-awareness, causal attribution, and action. Researchers have focused on how individuals perceive their involvement in the cause of events leading to either success or failure. Experiments have shown that when people are induced to be more self-aware, they are likely to attribute success to themselves. The researchers have also reported that gamified events were very effective at engaging Gen Z and that team-based gamification events were particularly engaging.

The University has established the Centre of Excellence in Simulation and Gaming (CoE_SG) to promote Simulation and Gamification as pedagogy and undertake research in this upcoming multidisciplinary area of interest. The Centre is coordinating with ISAGA and other such professional bodies for global networking.

The CoE_SG of this University is organizing a Webinar series “PRATITI...becoming aware” on gaming simulations in association with ISAGA. The key speakers are ISAGA members and other GS professionals. This webinar is held once every month from 3-4 p.m. India time. Each session lasts for an hour and will end with a Q&A of 10-15 minutes. These sessions are telecast to ISAGA members, other professionals in learning and education such as heads of universities and institutes, and students in higher studies. The sessions are also telecast live on YouTube and social media. The webinar series was started on December 17, 2021 and till the end of June 2022 total 07 Webinars have been conducted.

The opening webinar was conducted by Dr. Sebastiaan Meijer, Professor and Vice Dean, KTH Royal Institute of Technology, Stockholm, Sweden on December 17, 2021 (Friday). The topic of the webinar was “Understanding Where to Go: Gaming as a Method to Innovate between Organisations and Systems”. According to him, the design of the future society from the perspective of sustainability is more urgent than ever. However, it is notoriously difficult to bring together the different perspectives of stakeholders, systems and organisations, each with their logic and goals. Gaming as a method provides a unique opportunity to become the meta integrator, but needs to be positioned in a concerted effort with data-driven analytics and computer simulation. In this talk, Sebastiaan Meijer provided some frameworks on how this can be done, and illustrated from a set of research and innovation projects from the past two decades.

Dr. Elysabeth Leigh, Life Member – ISAGA, Sydney, Australia spoke at the second webinar of the series on Educating through Non-interference and No-words. The session was held on January 29, 2022 (Saturday). Dr. Leigh focused on how to understand and manage shifts in the exercise of power, authority and control that occurs in learning contexts once it is decided to use simulations and games for learning. Education and learning become an adventure with risks and rewards built on playfulness and exploration. Webinar participants will play with some of these ideas as we explore the kinds of learning that can emerge from Non-interference and No-words.

Dr. Paola Rizzi, Professor of Techniques of Urban and Regional Planning at University of Sassari, Italy spoke on “Acts of Citizenship for Civic Spaces: The Role of Urban Gaming Simulation” in the III session of the webinar series “Pratiti...becoming aware” held on February 25, 2022 (Friday). In this webinar Dr. Rizzi emphasized how two important points of view in UGS: that of the player/user and that of the planner can simultaneously direct and orient both the physical and the social and economic definition of urban areas. It was an amazing session indeed and attended by people across the world.

The IV Webinar of the series was held on March 25, 2022 (Friday) on “Talk, Play and Listen ! Co-Design Practices of Simulation Games”. The resource person was Dr. Heide Lukosch, Associate Professor and Head of Applied Immersive Gaming Initiative (AIGI), University of Canterbury, Christchurch, New Zealand. She is also the Chair of the International Simulation and Gaming Association (ISAGA). It was a great experience and was an amazing session indeed by Dr. Heide. In this talk, she discussed examples, approaches, and failures to co-design applied games, while talking, playing and listening to the target group. The talk was followed by a fruitful question-and-answer session. Dr. Upinder Dhar, Vice Chancellor – SVVV, Indore, Dr. Hidehiko, Dr. Elena, Dr. Jega, Dr. Jawahar Bhalla, Dr. Vinod Dumblekar, Dr. Santosh Dhar, Dr

Mantosh and Heads of different Departments of SVVV-Indore were presented as the panelists in the Webinar. In the end, Dr. Jigyasu Dubey, Coordinator, CoE_SG – SVVV, Indore delivered the words of thanks.

The webinar was on an interesting topic "Facilitation Techniques to Enhance Learning Effects". Her presentation takes the audience along best practices in the introduction, time-out reflection and debriefing didactics and mixed-method research. She also shared the findings of the latest study in this area that have much practical relevance for enhancing learning effects in the simulation game. It was a wonderful session and was appreciated by all the participants. Dr. Hidehiko, Dr. Toshiko, Dr. Toyada, Dr. Ramesh Sharma, Dr. Vinod Dumblekar, Dr. Mantosh and Heads of different Departments of SVVV-Indore were presented as the panelists in the Webinar. In the end, Dr. Jigyasu Dubey, Coordinator, CoE_SG – SVVV, Indore expressed thanks to the speaker, panelists, and all the participants.

The VI session of the webinar series "Pratiti...becoming aware" was held on May 13, 2021 (Friday). Mr. Hans Luyckx, Director at IJsfontein, The Netherlands conducted the session on the topic "The Relationship between Play and the Academic World". He gave an insight into the Dutch serious game industry. Dutch culture is playful, Erasmus and Huizinga were the first academics to focus on game, play and playfulness. This was followed by a question-answer session which was very fruitful. At the end, Dr. Jigyasu Dubey, Coordinator, CoE_SG – SVVV, Indore delivered the words of thanks.

The VII webinar of the series was conducted on June 24, 2022 (Friday) by Dr. Femke Bekius, Assistant professor, Department of Methodology, Business Administration, Radboud University, The Netherlands on the topic "Unravelling the Complexity of Decision-Making Processes by Using Game Concepts to Support Game Design". In this webinar, she explained how game theory and gaming simulation can be combined and can be used in participatory interventions with stakeholders to support decision-making. The Webinar ends with words of Thanks by Dr. Jigyasu Dubey, Coordinator, CoE_SG – SVVV.

He also supported Sanatan Culture for the welfare of the humans. In the American Parliament, Swami Vivekananda delivered a wonderful speech that caused the audience to rise and give him a thunderous round of applause. #### 74th Republic Day Celebration

Shri Vaishnav Vidyapeeth Vishwavidyalaya celebrated 74th Republic Day on January 26, 2023 with great patriotism. The occasion was graced by the presence of Former Judge High Court of Madhya Pradesh, Shri Ramesh S. Garg as Chief Guest. The celebration started with the unfurling of the national flag by the Chief Guest Justice Shri Ramesh S. Garg, Hon'ble Chancellor, Shri Purushottam Das ji Pasari, SVVV, Hon'ble Vice Chancellor, Dr Upinder Dhar, Secretary, Shri Vaishnav Vidyapeeth Trust, Shri Kamal Narayan ji Bhuradiya, HOIs, HODs, Faculties and Staff members.

Hon'ble Vice Chancellor, Shri Vaishnav Vidyapeeth Vishwavidyalaya, Dr Upinder Dhar in his welcome address mentioned that on this day as our great nation was declared sovereign, secular & democratic in true sense. He focused on higher education and the major challenges our universities must overcome to reach parity. Actually, India is one of the largest education markets in the world—about 587 million people under the age of 25 years are waiting for education including about 144 million in the 18-23 age group who are eligible for higher education. Dr Dhar further added to improving the quality of existing academic programs in science and technology and to developing new programs, especially to provide general education and to attract talented and motivated students from deprived backgrounds to help overcome their academic deficiencies; and strong skill development and motivation must be implemented. SVVV has already started working in this area, conducting interdisciplinary courses according to his new NEP guidelines.

Hon'ble Chancellor, Shri Purushottam Das ji Pasari spoke about the 138-year legacy of the Sri Vaishnav Trust and its achievements in education and community service. He further shared that over the past 138 years, Vaishnav Trust and its associate organizations have implemented numerous public service and community projects in the city of Indore considering the mantra "Nar Seva Narayan Seva". Shri Pasari ji also emphasized that the SVVV's curriculum is designed to prepare students ready for the professional world and new courses will be launched in the near future in light of the Global Investors Summit in Indore.

Coordinator, Cultural committee and Director i/c, Shri Vaishnav Institute of Architecture, Ar Vishal Yardi introduced the chief guest to the august gathering.

The Chief Guest, Justice Shri Ramesh S. Garg addressed the audience and shared memories and challenges he faced during his career as a judge. Shri Garg quoted that lack of transparency was a controversial issue, especially regarding the appointment of judges. Moreover, the increase in attacks on judges is a major concern for judicial authorities. Physical attacks on law enforcement officers have increased in recent years. If the parties do not receive a favourable judgment, there may be joint campaigns against judges on print and social media. These attacks appear to be sponsored and synchronized.

An important aspect to emphasize is to improve working conditions for judges in order to attract the best talent and fill vacancies. On average, Constitutional Court judges hear about 40 cases on a variety of subjects each day. Public holidays are used to complete pending judicial work. Even after 20 to 30 years of service in the judiciary, judges are deprived of basic post-retirement security, housing, or medical care. According to recent statistics, there are 4.06 million cases pending in Indian courts. This number alone is not a very useful metric. Moreover, with a population of almost 1.4 billion, India has to consider a judge-to-population ratio of 21 judges per million which should be at least 50-55. The legal system's objectives were undermined by numerous lawsuits pending before the Supreme Court and other lower courts.

The vibes of patriotism were then elevated by a patriotic poetry presented by Dr Namrata Jain, Associate Prof. Shri Vaishnav School of Management and also by Prof. Rahul Sharma, Assistant Prof. Shri Vaishnav Institute of Technology and Science. This was followed by a melodious and energetic dance performance by Natraj Club, a parody of patriotic songs by Riyaz Club and an insightful skit on current national issues Shri Rangpeethclub. At the end Dr Shweta Agrawal, Associate Professor, Shri Vaishnav Institute of Science proposed vote of thanks. The master of the ceremony was Dr Swati Sharma, Associate Professor, Shri Vishnav School of Management was and Er. Shilpa Indra Jain, Assistant Professor, Shri Vaishnav Institute of Technology and Science was the rapporteur.

The session also included a question and answer session moderated by Dr. Shilpa Phadnis, Associate Professor, SVISSHA and rapporteur by Mr. Sandeep Jain, Assistant Professor, SVIIT.

As a first speaker Ms. Shilpy Singh told about that what does humanizing workplace mean? In simple terms, it means creating an environment in the workplace that values employees' emotions, needs, and wellbeing. It is about promoting a culture of empathy, respect, and kindness that fosters collaboration and productivity. The digital era has transformed the way we work, communicate, and interact with each other. The increased use of technology in the workplace has made many tasks easier and more efficient, but it has also led to a sense of isolation and disconnection among workers. Humanizing workplace in the digital era means creating a work environment that value and prioritizes human connection and interaction. One way to humanize the workplace is to create opportunities for social interaction and collaboration. This can be done through team-building exercises, social events, and shared spaces that encourage collaboration and interaction.

Then Mr. Gautam Tungare has brought attention about advancement on the digital era, such as Artificial Intelligence, Big Data, Machine Learning, and more. These technologies have made it possible for companies to work faster, smarter, and more efficiently. However, with the over-reliance on technology, we must not forget the human element that is essential to the success of any organization. One of the ways to humanize the workplace is by promoting a culture of trust and transparency. This means encouraging open communication, being transparent about company policies and decisions, and trusting employees to do their jobs without micromanagement. When employees feel that their input is valued and heard, they are more likely to be motivated and engaged in their work. He also put his thoughts about main challenges companies face in digital era as well as building pillars for humanizing digital workplace.

As a last speaker of this session Ms. Monika Sharma has shared another way that companies can humanize the workplace by promoting work-life balance. With the advancements in technology, it is easy to be connected to work 24/7, which can lead to burnout and stress. To avoid this, companies should encourage employees to take breaks, set clear boundaries between work and personal life, and offer flexible work arrangements, such as remote work and flexible hours.

In conclusion, humanizing the workplace in the digital era is crucial for the success of any organization. By promoting a culture of trust and transparency, providing opportunities for growth and development, and promoting work-life balance, companies can create a positive and productive work environment that values employees' emotions, needs, and wellbeing.

At the end of session Dr. Gaurav Shrivastav, extend heartfelt gratitude to all for attending plenary session-I.

Debate Competition- 'Shall We Regulate Artificial Intelligence'

(11.04.2023)

India has assumed the Presidency of G20 for this year. The Department of Youth Affairs, Government of India (DoYA) is organizing the 'Youth-20 Summit' on 1- June 2023 during India's G20 Presidency. In that view, a debate competition was organized by Shri Vaishnav Vidyapeeth Vishwavidyalaya, to create awareness about the said summit. The theme of the debate was 'Shall We Regulate Artificial Intelligence'. Thirty students from various disciplines of the university participated in the debate competition. Regulation of Artificial Intelligence (AI) has been a hot topic over the last decade, and it is no surprise to consider both its current and future potential impact on society. Some crucial points raised by the students included that there is a dire need to regulate the use of AI in the context of social media platforms, health systems, autonomous vehicles, and finance amongst other sectors and activities. Computerized personal assistants such as Apple's Siri, Microsoft's Cortana, and Amazon's Alexa use AI to learn from their users' behaviour and how to better serve them. AI-equipped robots are also used in child, elder, and patient care. One must further note that regulating AI on an international level is a highly challenging task. Most importantly, one must take into account that restrictions on the development of AI as a field are likely to impose very high human and economic costs. AI programs are already helping to detect cancer, reduce the risk of aeroplane collisions, and are implemented into old-fashioned (that is, non-autonomous) cars' software that makes them much safer.

In contrast, suggestions to limit some very specific applications of AI seem to merit much closer examination and action. A major case in point is the development of autonomous weapons that employ AI to decide when to fire, with how much force to apply, and on what targets. A pause in developing killing machines until the nations of the world come to an agreement on limitations on the deployment of autonomous weapons seems sensible. The current system can work effectively if the producers of AI technology can provide sufficient transparency in explaining how AI decisions are made. Transparency ex-post can often be achieved through retrospective analysis of the technology's operations and will be sufficient if the main goal is to compensate victims of incorrect decisions. Ex-ante transparency is more challenging, and can limit the use of some AI technologies such as neural networks. It should only be demanded by regulation where the AI presents risks to fundamental rights, or where society needs reassurance that the technology can safely be used. Masterly inactivity in regulation is likely to achieve a better long-term solution than a rush to regulate in ignorance.

Dr. Suprajanya Thakur, Associate Professor, SVIS, Dr. Anurag Joshi, Associate Professor, SVISSHA and Prof. Ajay Shankar Joshi, Assistant Professor, SVITT were the judges of the said debate competition. They encouraged and motivated the students and quoted valuable inputs in this direction. Dr. Suprajanya, Associate Professor, SVIS, explained the importance of logical content in the debate competition. Dr. Anurag Joshi, Associate Professor, SVISSHA, quoted that fluency and confident delivery help to bind the audience.
