Dr Tiwari Of SVVV Gets 1st Prize For His Paper On Hardware Design

Dr Vikas Tiwari of Shri Vaishnav Vidyapeeth Vishvavidyalaya got first prize for his research paper on 'Low Capacity VLSI Hardware Design For DWPT'. On this achievement of Dr Tiwari, chancellor Purushottamdas Pasari, vice chancellor Dr Upinder Dhar, director Dr Namit Gupta and faculty of electronics and communication department congratulated him.

Vaishnav Vidyapeeth, Holkar College & IPS Teams Win Quiz Held To Mark National Science Day

School of Science and Laboratory, IPS Academy, organised a quiz competition to mark the National Science Day. Over 16 teams took part in the competition. The programme was inaugurated by DAVV head of science department professor Shakti Banerjee, while director Dr Premlata Gupta presided. The questions were related to physics, chemistry, and biology. During the visual buzzer, passing round, rapidfire and multiple choice questions the teams had answers even before the questions ended. Shri Vaishnav Vidyapeeth Vishvavidyalaya won the competition and received a cash prize of Rs 11,000. Students of Holkar Science College stood second and they were given Rs 5,000, whereas IPS team secured third position and were given Rs 1100. Gupta said, "Our elders have given us a beautiful place and we should give it to our children in a good condition."